Chart-1

1. What is the chart trying to show?

It compares attendance levels across different groups / classes. Group F has highest attendance, while Group C has the lowest.

2. What's wrong with color choice?

The colours are inconsistent & make some groups look more important.

3. Propose a better color scheme.

Use one consistent color for all bars, with one contrasting color only for an important group.

Chart-2

1) What is this chart trying to show?

It compares no of adoptions for different types of pets. Cats have the highest no of adoptions, followed by rabbits and fish, while dogs & birds have fewer adoptions.

2. What's wrong with color choice?

The different shades of blue do not represent meaningful information and can create visual lags.

3. Propose a better color scheme?

Use one consistent color for all bars (or) equally distinct colors for each type.
